In the THIRD SUBDIVISION OF THE ASSOCIATED CHARITIES, within the following boundaries, viz. Rock creek to 15th street, along Pennsylvania avenue; thence north with 15th street to P; thence west to 18th; thence with 18th to Boundary, and thence along Rock creek to the beginning, will hold a meeting on SATURDAY, at 7:30 p. m., in the Friends' House of Worship, I street, near 18th, for the purpose of reorganizing for the winter's work of relieving the poor. Thus far this subdivision has received but little encouragement from its residents. Some of them have probably sent contributions to the central office; but our subdivision derives no aid from the central board, and is expected to provide for its own poor. Its residents are therefore requested to send their contributions of money or clothing directly to our officers.

It is hoped that there may be a large attendance at the proposed meeting and a hearty response to our call for

ELECAMPANE AND HOREHOUND

Washington News and Gossip. GOVERNMENT RECEIPTS To-DAY .- Internal revenue, $381,849.90; customs, $441,976.75. COMMODORE RALPH CHANDLER has been selected to succeed Admiral Jouett as president of the naval court of inquiry to investigate the frauds in the bureau of medicine and surgery. The court will not meet again, however, until after the trials in the local courts, which have been set for December. To BE RETIRED.—The naval retiring board has recommended Ensign W. L. Varnum and Assistant Engineer John A. Henderson for retirement.

NATIONAL BANKS.-The acting controller of the currency to-day extended the corporate existence 1904: The Farmers National bank, of Lancaster, Pa.; the National bank, of Pottstown, Pa.; the Merchants and Manufacturers National bank, of Pittsburg, Pa.; the Lechmere National bank of East Cambridge, Mass.; and the First National bank, of Mount Joy, Pa.

sault. The court is composed of Commander C. M. Schoonmaker, president; Captain R. W. Huntington, M. C.; Lieutenant H. L. Tremain, Lieutenant H. Winslow, Lieutenant S. P. Comly, Lieutenant G. F. W. Holman, and First Lieutenant Richard Wallach M. C. with Lieut. lach, M. C., with Lieut. S. C. Lemly, judge advo-cate. FIFTEEN naval officers, of different grades, will shortly be ordered before the naval retiring board for examination for retirement. To BE Examined FOR PROMOTION .- The medical officers of the haval examining board have gone to Pittsburg to examine Lieut. B. F. Rinehart for promotion. That officer is too ill to come to Washington for promotion. ENSIGN WASHINGTON I. CHAMBERS WIll this evening read his prize essay on "the reconstruction and increase of the navy" before the Washington branch of the Naval Institute, at the Navy depart-AMONG THE PRESIDENT'S CALLERS to-day were Senator Vest, Gen. Terry, D. Huntington, Gen. Ordway and Commissioner Butterworth. A COURT MARTIAL convened at the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, yesterday, for the trial of Private Marine William Richards on a charge of drunkenness while on post. The court is composed of Lieut. R. T. Jasper, president; Lieut. C. R. Milles, , and Lieut. J. W. Danenhower, U. and Lieut. Carroll Mercer, marine corps. THE MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA BOUNDARY LINE. Capt. Chas. Junkin, of the United States coast and geodetic survey, has been detailed by the Secretary of War to finish marking the boundary line between Maryland and Virginia, as determined by joint resolutions of the legislature of both states. PROMOTIONS IN THE SUBSISTENCE DEPARTMENT.-The recent retirement of Col. Henry F. Clarke, assistant commissary general of subsistence, causes the following promotions: Lieut. Col. Wm. W. Burns to be assistant commissary general of subsistence with the rank of colonel; Major George Bell to be assistant commissary general of subsistant commissary general commissary ge sistence with the rank of lieutenant colonel; Capt. Jeremiah H. Gilman to be commissary of subsistence, with the rank of major. NAVAL ORDERS.-Assistant Surgeon Wm. Martin has been ordered to special duty in connection with the New Orleans exposition. Commodore Oliver A. Satcheller has been detached from the command of the Galena and placed on waiting orders. Lieut. George M. Storey, from command of the Ounaiaska and ordered to Washington, to report to the chief of bureau of navigation for special duty. Ensign John L. Purcell, from the Ounaiaska and placed on waiting orders. Surgeon Galerya A. Bright from John L. Purcell, from the Olinaiaska and placed on waiting orders. Surgeon George A. Bright, from the Galena and placed on waiting orders. Passed Assistant Surgeon J. H. Hall, from the navy yard, Mare Island, and ordered to the naval hospital at that yard. Lieut. Eugene W. Watson has been commissioned lieutenant commander in the navy.

THERE IS BUT ONE VACANCY in the grade of second lieutenant in the army, and it has existed since last summer, when the President made fifteen appointments to that grade from civil life. There were sixteen vacancies, but one of them was not filled. A strong effort has been made by the friends of Sergeant Brainard, who achieved such an enviable reputation in the Greely expedition, to have him ppointed to the existing vacancy as a reward for his good service and gallantry in the arctic regions. Thus far the plan has been unsuccessful for the sed the position to some one else. Rumor has it that the young man who expects to don the U. S. army uniform is the son of Gen. Pickett, of the conederate army, and that the fact that he is not yet age, but will be before the 4th of March next, accounts for the delay in making the appointment. In the meantime Gen. Hazen and other friends of Brainard are doing all in their power to secure the position for him. THE SIGNAL OFFICE sent out the warning message of "cold wave coming" at 1:20 pt m., of the 17th, and the cold-wave flag (white with black center), was displayed over the signal office until 5 p. m. of the 18th. The warning was followed by a fall of over 30 degrees in the temperature during he 24 hours succeeding the display.

THE SOLICITOR GENERAL having rendered an opinion that there is no authority for the instrucions contained in a recent Treasury department circular, authorizing the transportation without examination by bonded express companies of pas-sengers' baggage, that circular has been rescinded by direction of Secretary McCulloch.

CHANGES OF STATIONS .- Passed Assistant Surgeon George W. Stoner, of the marine hospital service, has been transferred from duty at Cairo, Ili., to Norfolk, and Surgeon Henry Smith from Norfolk

Charles P. Miller, U. S. A., of the retired list, have een dropped from the roll of the army by direction of President Arthur, in accordance with the decision of the Court of Claims, affirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court, that they having once been out of the service have not been legally restored. The restoration in each of these cases was by presidenal action, for which there was no legal authority. Mr. Randall's Position. HIS FRIENDS SAY HE CAN GO INTO CLEVELAND'S CABINET AS HEAD OF THE INTERIOR DEPART-

Mr. Randall's position under Cleveland's administration is an interesting topic of discussion among politicians about town. His friends say he can go in the new Cabinet—not as Secretary of the Treasury, but as head of the Interior department, and they urge that he should accept it. The Interior, they say, is now the most important department in the government, and would open a field to Randall in which his aggressiveness would bring the most credit to himself and party. They say he has nothing but embarrassment before him in the House, and, moreover, has the prospect of being thrown over the next time he goes before his district for election. Cleveland's Reform Principles. IS PRIENDS BELIEVE HE WILL CARRY OUT THE CIVIL SERVICE PROGRAM FAITHFULLY. Correspondence New York Times.

KINGSTON, N. Y., November 19.—Lawyers from Ulster and other Hudson river counties in attendin trying a case, talk politics. A Times correspondent learned to-day that nearly all of the democratic lawyers believe the President-elect will carry out the civil service program when he comes to sit in the chair of the chief executive of the nation, which he has as governor of the state. ExAttorney General Schoonmaker, who is a member of the civil service reform commission, indorses the views of Dorman B. Eaton, chairman of the United States commission. Judge Schoonmaker is credited with saying, by lawyers who have conversed on the subject with him, that the wisest course the democracy can pursue is a conservative and conciliatory one. He believes that the capable and efficient government employes, other than heads of departments and those who have made themselves conspicuous and obnoxious, will in all probability retain their present positions under Grover Cleveland's administration.

The Times says editorially in regard to the above "The views attributed in our Kingston dispatch to Judge Schoonmaker regarding Mr. Cleveland's civil service policy are intelligent enough to be credited to that gentleman. As a member of the civil service commission of the state, Judge Schoonmaker has been familiar with Mr. Cleveland's course and with his opinions, and he has found the course and with his opinions, and he has found the governor in full sympathy with his own strict idelity to the reform. His estimate of Mr. Cleveland's probable action as President is therefore of special value. The judge represents a large body of conservative and sensible democrats who understand the political wisdom of adherence to the reform as clearly as they perceive the essential advantage to the country of maintaining it in its integrity. And it is precisely in this class in his integrity. And it is precisely in this class in his own party that Mr. Cleveland will find his strongest

Ex-Senator Dorsey, who in his new character of New Mexican ranchman is a conspicuous figure in the national convention of cattlemen in session in this city, has given a rather characteristic interview to the Post-Dispatch. "How do you explain the result in Indiana?" he

"How do I explain it? How would you explain the difference between the burning of a cord of hickory and a cord of soft pine? Indiana is a state of intelligence and is so evenly divided in its political views that the tip of a hair on either side will carry it." "What do you think of Mr. Elkins' management of the canvass?" fested by the Citizens of Washington. PUBLIC MRETING TO BE PROBABLY HELD NEXT "From everything that I hear," remarked a welldent. Every thing points to a very great demonstration on that occasion. Already we begin to hear of organizations that have determined to come roads are beginning to advertise the inauguration by offering to sell tickets to the New Orleans expo-sition by way of Washington, and that will make a very attractive trip. There seems to be every reason to expect a big crowd, perhaps larger than ever before, and the people of the District can be relied upon to arrange a series of attractions which will be worthy of the occasion and of the city." "By whom will the necessary arrangements be made?" asked the reporter.
"I don't think that anything has been determined upon yet," was the reply. "Probably the same plan will be pursued as in previous years, and a public meeting of citizens will be called.

public meeting of citizens will be called. At this inecting a committee will be designated to make arrangements for the inauguration, with power to appoint such other committees as may be found cessary. This was the plan followed four years ago, and, after the committee was finally appointed, the arrangements were admirably planned and carried out, as every one will testify." "But I said after the committee was appointed," he continued, "there was a little breeze over the appointment of the committeee, if you remember, owing to the fact that everybody wanted to be at the head. This was, manifestly, impossible, and the consequence was that in the rush some got crowded out; some were left in the rear, and others got in the front—a sort of struggle for the survival of the fittest. After this little preliminary fight, however, everybody pitched in and worked with the committee. I expect that we will have a sim-liar contest this year. "When will the public meeting be held?" asked "I don't know," was the reply, "but I understand that it will be called next week some time. It is the intention, I am told, and I think it very sensible, to issue a call for a public meeting without signatures, so that the movement will not be em-

The action taken by the Columbia club last evening, as noted below, in appointing a committee to confer with the national committee was to ascerback to the national trail and will oppose its establishment. As soon as the Texas delegates heard of this they went into caucus with a view of tain if they had any suggestions to make for them-selves or for Mr. Cleveland in regard to the inselves or for Mr. Cleveland in regard to the in-augural arrangements. If any such suggestions are made they will be reported to the public meet-ing. It is understood that a number of citizens, members of the Metropolitan and and other pers of the Metr politan club and others, have been consulting tog-ther in regard to the local aspect of the inauguration. Commissioner Edmonds went to New York to-day, and it is probable that he will talk with some of the leading democrats on this subject. Other organizations of citizens in the District have considered this matter, and it seems probable that the interest of citizens in the arrangements for the inauguration will be very THE DEMOCRATS DO NOT PROPOSE TO HAVE THE AR-RANGEMENTS PASS OUT OF THEIR BANDS.

"We have now to get ready for the inauguration," remarked Capt. Luttrell, chairman of the District democratic committee, to a STAR reporter to-day. "Has anything been done yet?" inquired the re-"Nothing in the way of actual work. The national democratic committee are to confer with Gov. Cleveland and we will learn from them his wishes as to the affair. We will have to use the new pension building. No, nothing definite about how we will fix it has been decided, but we will probably roof it in with canvas, or we may use waterproof paper. When Stewart castle was injured by fire Gray put a roof of that fireproof paper on and it lasted for months. I don't think there will be any difficulty about getting the pension building and putting it in good shape. Unless that is used we shall have to erect a building for the purpose, and that would be too expensive. We appoint a citizens' committee, but the democrats do not intend to permit the inaugural event to pass out of their hands, you may be sure of that. I saw a statement in some paper that Commissioner Edmonds would take charge of it. Now, Mr. Edmonds may help if he chooses, but when the democrats of this District want him to take charge of the inauguration they will send him word."

TO SUPPORT THE THEORY OF INSANITY. In the Criminal Court, Judge Wylle, yesterday, the second trial of Frank Minor, colored, indicted for the murder of his wife, Victoria Minor, on the morning of October 11th, 1882, at his residence, 323 F street southwest, was continued after THE STAR'S report closed; Mr. T. F. Miller and E. D. Wright for the defendant and District Attorney Worthington and his assistant prosecuting.

After considerable testimony as to strange conduct of the prisoner shortly before the homicide and testimony as to his reputation, Dr. W. W. Godding, superintendent of the Insane asylum, testified that a severe blow on the head, followed by bleedings at the nose, would be liable years after to create a mental disturbance; a mania could spring from certain causes, and when it became violent it would redress itself upon the object which had led to the great office attempts to advocate his own claims side after the accomplishment of its violence in cases of this kind than others. On cross-examination witness said that cases of extreme jealousy were hard to distinguish from those termed insane jealousy. For the government Dr. E. C. Winter testified in rebuttal against the theory of insanity.

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COURT TO THE JURY. The trial was resumed this morning, and the defense offered prayers for instructions on the theory of the prisoner's insanity at the time of committing which are believed to be due to cholera. At Benicpe the homicide. After some discussion the court instructed the jury on the prayers. He said the only question was as to the condition of the prisoner's mind. The law presumed every man to be sane, and the defendant is bound to prove his insanity. There were people insane on one subject but not on thers, and it would not do to say that such persons were excusable for a mupder. The plea of in-sanity should be made out to the reasonable satisfaction of the jury to entitle the person to a verdict. If a man goes out to his work after giving his Mr. Taggart proceeded to argue the case, and was followed by Mr. Wright for the prisoner, who spoke till the hour of recess. After the recess Mr. Miller closed the argument for the defense and District Attorney Worthington for the prosecution.

Catholics and the Public Schools. PROBABLE ACTION OF THE PLENARY COUNCIL. A Baltimore special to the New York Herald. says that one of the decrees, which will probably be adopted by the plenary council to-day, "will be concerning the position of the Catholic church on met in Albany yesterday afternoon. Mr. Conkling appeared as counsel for the democratic state comparities. The returns for electors by districts from of the position of the church on this question, and

A leading member of the council said on this subject. It is not many years since the columns of the press teemed with articles on the public school question. This has been a source of great annoyance to the leaders of the Catholic church. In nearly every large city in the country a great number of Catholic children attend the public schools. Experience has taught that these children frequently become careless in the duties of their religion and indifferent to the high standard of morality on which the church places so high a value. Her bishops and clergy sternly advocate the daily catechism and stated instructions on the principal tenets of the Catholic faith. To bring about this result parish schools have been attached to many churches, where the poorer children are educated. But Catholics are crippled by the want of pecuniary resources, and thus it happens that in some instances these parish schools are inferior in their curriculum to the public schools of our country. The bishops see that the only way for them to secure a thorough disciplining of the children according to Catholic belief and practice is to establish a more thorough system of parish schools in every city, the studies being graded on the same plan as the primary, grammar, and high school courses of the country. For this purpose they demand such a division of the school tax as will enable them to place their schools on a level with the public schools. What means can be adopted for the accomplishment of this plan is a problem to be solved by the wisdom of the fathers of the third plenary council of Baltimore.'"

SAN FRANCISCO, November 20.—The particulars of the shooting of Michael De Young last evening are as follows: Mr. De Young entered the business office and then passed into his private office, in order to get some children's books which he had purchased.
